Oh, Danny boy, the pipes, the pipes are calling From glen to glen and down the mountain side.

The summer's gone and all the roses dying. 'Tis you, 'tis you must go and I must bide.

But come ye back when summer's in the meadow Or when the valley's hushed and white with snow.

'Tis I'll be there in sunshine or in shadow. Oh Danny boy, oh Danny boy, I love you so.

But if you come and all the roses dying And I am dead, as dead I well may be

You'll come and find the place where I am lying      And kneel and say an ave there for me.

And I shall feel, oh soft you tread above me      And then my dreams will richer, sweeter be.

For you will bend and tell me that you love me      And I shall sleep in peace until you come to me.
